GRAND PRIX FANS

Welcome back to the Streets of Downtown Detroit for the 2024 Chevrolet Detroit Grand Prix presented by Lear. We were so excited to bring the Grand Prix back to its original home in the heart of the Motor City in 2023 and we can't wait to host you this weekend as we add a new chapter to the legacy of the Grand Prix in Detroit.

We felt a renewed energy and excitement in the city last summer when we hosted the first Grand Prix on the downtown streets since 1991. We have felt that same kind of buzz, anticipation and pride in our city as we have been preparing for this weekend's event, featuring world-class racing, live music, great food and family fun.

As we continue to celebrate Detroit and our surrounding communities by making the Grand Prix one of the most inclusive and welcoming events in our region, we hope even more people get a chance to experience all of the fun and excitement this weekend. Once again, more than half of the Grand Prix venue is open and available to fans for free all weekend long. In fact, we have even expanded the event's footprint down Woodward Avenue to offer more areas of free Grand Prix access this weekend. We're excited to feature our new Entertainment Stage in Campus Martius Park and the unique Small Business Straightaway – highlighting locally-owned businesses from across all of Detroit's districts – in Cadillac Square during this year's Grand Prix.

As we hoped when we brought the Grand Prix back to the streets of Detroit, last summer's event helped generate more than $100 million in total spending for our tri-county region. We look forward to once again making a positive impact on local businesses and the communities across the city of Detroit with more than 100,000 fans expected to visit the Grand Prix.

As always, the racing action on track this weekend will deliver thrills for all of our fans on the tight and technical nine-turn, 1.7-mile street circuit. The stars of the NTT INDYCAR SERIES will battle wheel-to-wheel on Sunday in the Chevrolet INDYCAR Grand Prix. On Saturday, the exotic sports cars of the IMSA WeatherTech SportsCar Championship will race for the first time on the streets of Downtown Detroit in the Chevrolet Sports Car Classic. We also welcome back the future stars of racing with INDY NXT by Firestone competing on Sunday.

Chevrolet and General Motors helped us bring the Grand Prix back to the Motor City and we are so thankful for their continued commitment and support of this amazing event, along with our partners at Lear Corporation. Thank you to all of our Grand Prix partners, as well our amazing Detroit Grand Prix Association volunteers, for being the driving force behind the Grand Prix.

We hope you have a fun and safe weekend in Detroit and we encourage you to download our Detroit GP mobile app to help with your Grand Prix experience. We also hope that you visit our website at DetroitGP.com after the event to share your feedback with our team.

Sincerely,

Bud Denker

Chairman

Chevrolet Detroit Grand Prix presented by Lear

DEAR RACE FANS

On behalf of General Motors, Chevrolet and Cadillac, I'd like to welcome you to Detroit for a great weekend of motorsports action at the Chevrolet Detroit Grand Prix presented by Lear.

You won't want to miss this year's race weekend, which not only marks the second year of the highly anticipated event on the Streets of Downtown Detroit, but also this year, the NTT INDYCAR SERIES will be joined by IMSA, the premier sports car series in North America. That means the Corvette Z06 GT3.R and Cadillac V-Series.R will be among the race cars you'll see in action.

The world's best drivers will be competing on a nine-turn, 1.7-mile course that runs right through the heart of our city. The layout poses a real challenge for the teams, creating a true test of strategy, set-up and execution of race plan.

Previously, the event had a long, successful tenure on Belle Isle, a jewel of an island park in the Detroit River, and had a great partnership with the Belle Isle Conservancy over the years. Year after year, the race weekend brought in money and resources that helped make Belle Isle even better and even more beautiful, all year round. Now in its home in Downtown Detroit, the Grand Prix continues the tradition of giving back to the community.

With three races in three series, plus autograph sessions, games, interactive displays, great food, live music, and more, it is sure to be an exciting weekend, and one that's fun for the whole family.

The weekend's races at the Chevrolet Detroit Grand Prix presented by Lear include:

- Chevrolet INDYCAR Grand Prix (NTT INDYCAR SERIES Race)
- Detroit Sports Car Classic (IMSA WeatherTech Sports car Championship Race)
- INDY NXT by Firestone Race

Simply put, we are beyond excited about the Grand Prix weekend 2024, live on the streets of Downtown Detroit.

Thank you for your interest in and support of the Chevrolet Detroit Grand Prix presented by Lear. I hope you have a great time.

Sincerely,

Mark L. Reuss
General Motors President

CONNECTED TO THE COMMUNITY

With the Chevrolet Detroit Grand Prix presented by Lear's return to its original home on the Streets of Detroit, the event has become even more connected and engaged with the neighborhoods and communities across the city than ever before. As a 501(c)3 non-profit organization and a subsidiary of the Downtown Detroit Partnership, the Grand Prix has a tradition of community engagement. The event has opened its arms even wider to the community since its return to Downtown Detroit in 2023.

The Grand Prix is truly one of the most inclusive and welcoming annual events in the Detroit area. Once again in 2024, more than half of the Grand Prix venue is open and available to fans for free all weekend long. From the free viewing platforms along Jefferson Avenue to the Meijer Fan Zone in Hart Plaza and the beautiful Detroit Riverwalk, fans can be a part of the event and access areas all around the Grand Prix track completely free of charge. In fact, the event has even expanded its footprint down Woodward Avenue to offer more areas of free Grand Prix access. The new Entertainment Stage in Cadillac Square and the unique Small Business Straight-Away – highlighting locally-owned businesses from across all of Detroit's districts – in Campus Martius Park will be open and accessible to fans all weekend long. Thanks to the generous support of our community partners at Lear Corporation, Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan, American Axle Manufacturing, Huntington Bank, Delta Dental, Delta Airlines, DTE and PNC Bank, the Grand Prix is able to offer free viewing areas and provide so many opportunities for community engagement leading up to and during race weekend.

The Grand Prix is also proud of the opportunities it creates for local students, artists and businesses to shine during one of Detroit's most popular summertime festivals. For the 12th consecutive year, the Grand Prix has worked with the talented students at the College for Creative Studies (CCS) in Detroit to create the official commemorative event poster. We hope you enjoy this year's poster design created by CCS senior Alison Slackta, a colorful and vibrant creation that pays tribute to the street art culture in Detroit. For the second consecutive year, we are also excited to showcase digital mural designs created by the young students at the Boys & Girls Club of Southeast Michigan, proudly displayed on the track barrier walls in front of the viewing platforms on Jefferson Avenue.

The Grand Prix is also proud to continue its tradition of community giveback in its downtown home. After working with our partners to produce more than $13.5 million in lasting improvements to the Grand Prix's longtime home on Belle Isle Park, the Grand Prix will continue to expand its charitable outreach in 2024 and beyond. Friday night's PwC Grand Prixmiere presented by Chevrolet gala will help raise several hundred thousand dollars to benefit several important local non-profit organizations including the Belle Isle Conservancy, the Boys and Girls Club of SE Michigan, Detroit 300 Conservancy, the Detroit Public Safety Foundation and the Pope Francis Center in Detroit.

The Grand Prix will continue to establish itself as one of the most sustainable events in Michigan. With impactful environmentally-friendly initiatives – including comprehensive recycling and waste diversion programs to go along with unique community engagement and enhancement opportunities – the Chevrolet Detroit Grand Prix presented by Lear became the first event in Michigan and the first motorsports event worldwide to achieve Gold level certification from the Council for Responsible Sport last year. The event will look to raise the bar even higher in 2024.

IMSA WEATHERTECH SPORTSCAR CHAMPIONSHIP

The International Motor Sports Association, LLC (IMSA) was originally founded in 1969 and owns a long and rich history in sports car racing. Today, IMSA is the sanctioning body of the IMSA WeatherTech SportsCar Championship, the premier sports car racing series in North America. IMSA's flagship series competes at 11 of North America's leading sports car venues. Competition takes place in four classes – Grand Touring Prototype (GTP), Le Mans Prototype 2 (LMP2), GT Daytona Pro (GTD PRO) and GT Daytona (GTD) – and brings together renowned drivers with leading manufacturers for some of the world's biggest sports car events, such as the Rolex 24 At Daytona and Mobil Twelve Hours of Sebring.

Both the GTP and the GTD PRO classes will race in Detroit, marking the return of both the Cadillac and Corvette brands competing on their "hometown" track. Featuring the GTP and GTD PRO classes in action on the Downtown Detroit street circuit, the Chevrolet Sports Car Classic is set for Saturday, June 1.

Run alongside the NTT INDYCAR SERIES, INDY NXT by Firestone's 14-race schedule features 10 races on road/street courses and four races on ovals. In 2024, 14 full-time drivers on the NTT INDYCAR SERIES grid have INDY NXT by Firestone listed on their resumes, including two INDYCAR SERIES rookies who raced in INDY NXT in 2023 and the last three series champions.
